

Media Advisory

City of Santa Clara

New State-of-the-art Animal Care Center Public Open House and Grand Opening Ceremony

Saturday December 2nd ~ 10:00am-12:00pm

3370 Thomas Rd. Santa Clara, CA 95054

Operated by the Silicon Valley Animal Control Authority (SVACA). Providing licensing, field services and homeless animal sheltering to the residents of Campbell, Monte Sereno and Santa Clara.

Great visuals and many news angles to pursue including:

- Cat condos allow cats to climb and get accustomed to roaming loose in rooms as they would in a house.
- Dog habitats provide a homelike setting rather than confining the canines to cages or kennels.
- Indoor and outdoor dog play areas for exercise, behavior assessments, and getting acquainted with other dogs and potential owners.
- 24 hour secure “night drop” for found stray animals.
- “Green building” features such as a solar water heater, energy efficient air conditioning and lighting, and extremely high air quality.
- Provides services to residents throughout the Santa Clara Valley who want to adopt pets, are looking for lost animals, or who want to participate in educational programs.
- SVACA’s goal is to have all adoptable animals placed in new homes with no euthanasia.
- The new center will find homes for even the most hard to place animals by working closely with other animal agencies and rescue groups.

Facility is new and first opened for business November 14th, 2006

For media tours or more information, contact:

Dan Soszynski,
SVACA Executive Director
Office: 408-764-0352
Cell: 408-807-2599
Fax: 408-988-5411